Definitions

Special educational provision means educational provision that is additional to, or different from, the educational provision made generally for children of the child's age in a non-selective mainstream school in the area.

A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability that requires special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than most others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

A pupil must not be regarded as having a SEND because the language or dialect spoken at home is different from the language in which he is taught (SEND Code of Practice, 2015).

Pupils are considered to have a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to do normal daily activities.

The school will make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.

The four areas of need

The needs of pupils with SEND are grouped into four broad areas. Pupils can have needs that cut across more than one area, and their needs may change over time. Interventions will be selected that are appropriate for the pupil's particular area(s) of need, at the relevant time.

AREA OF NEED
Communication and interaction	Pupils with needs in this area have difficulty communicating with others. They may have difficulty understanding what is being said to them, have trouble expressing themselves, or do not understand or use the social rules of communication. Pupils who are on the autism spectrum often have needs that fall in this category.
Cognition and learning	Pupils with learning difficulties usually learn at a slower pace than their peers. A wide range of needs are grouped in this area, including: • Specific learning difficulties, which impact 1 or more specific aspects of learning, such as: dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia • Moderate learning difficulties • Severe learning difficulties • Profound and multiple learning difficulties, which is where pupils are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment
Social, emotional and mental health	These needs may reflect a wide range of underlying difficulties or disorders. Pupils may have: • Mental health difficulties such as anxiety, depression or an eating disorder • Attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder • Suffered adverse childhood experiences These needs can manifest in many ways, for example as challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour, or by the pupil becoming withdrawn or isolated.
Sensory and/or physical	Pupils with these needs have a disability that hinders them from accessing the educational facilities generally provided. Pupils may have: • A sensory impairment such as vision impairment, hearing impairment or multi-sensory impairment • A physical impairment These pupils may need ongoing additional support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.

SEND roles and responsibilities

The school as a whole, the Headteacher (Mr David Wingfield) and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment (Miss Lauren Robertson) will co-operate with relevant agencies and comply with the SEND Code of Practice (2015), in ensuring appropriate support and provision for pupils with Special Educational Needs and / or with Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCPs).

- Working with the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment to review each pupil's progress and development, and decide on any changes to provision.
- Ensuring he or she follows this SEND policy.

SEND roles and responsibilities (cntd)

Parents or carers should inform the school if they have any concerns about their child's progress or development.

Parents or carers of a pupil on the SEND register will be given the opportunity to provide information and express their views about the pupil's SEND and the support provided. They will be invited to participate in discussions and decisions about this support.

Parents or carers will be:

- Invited to meetings to review the provision that is in place for their child;
- Asked to provide information about the impact of SEND support outside school and any changes in the pupil's needs;
- Given the opportunity to share their concerns and, with school staff, agree their aspirations for the pupil;
- The school will take into account the views of the parent or carer in any decisions made about the pupil.

Pupils will always be given the opportunity to provide information and express their views about their SEND and the support provided. They will be invited to participate in discussions and decisions about this support, where appropriate.

These discussions and decisions might involve the pupil:

- Explaining what his strengths and difficulties are;
- Contributing to setting targets or outcomes;
- Attending review meetings;
- Giving feedback on the effectiveness of interventions.

The pupil's views will be taken into account in making decisions that affect them, whenever possible.

Our approach to SEND support

Identifying pupils with SEND and assessing their needs

At Eaton House The Manor Pre-Prep School, we recognise the importance of early identification, assessment and provision for any pupil who may have special educational needs. We hold that the earlier the action is taken, the more responsive the pupil is likely to be, improving long-term outcomes.

Information provided by the pupil's nursery may be used as a starting point for the development of an appropriate curriculum for the boy. We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment when he starts at the school. This will build on information from previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. We will also consider any evidence that the pupil may have a disability and if so, what reasonable adjustments the school may need to make. Teachers monitor pupils' communication, language and mathematical abilities closely, as they may reveal areas for early action to support the pupil within the class.

The procedures for identification, assessment and provision for pupils with SEND have been developed with due regard to:

- Special educational needs and disability code of practice: 0 to 25 years, 2015, provides statutory guidance on the SEND system for pupils and young people age 0 – 25 years
- Education Act, 2011
- Disability Discrimination Act Codes of Practice (Education), 2002
- Every child matters, 2003
- Equality Act, 2010

All records are confidential.

The Headteacher (Mr David Wingfield) will:

- Be the 'Responsible Person'

The DSL (Mrs Fiona Bellamy-Laughton) will:

- Ensure the safeguarding of all SEND pupils

Our approach to SEND support (cntd)

Identifying pupils with SEND and assessing their needs (cntd)

Class teachers will regularly assess the progress of all pupils and identify any whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline;
- Fails to match or better their previous rate of progress;
- Fails to close the attainment gap between them and their peers;
- Widens the attainment gap.

It may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, wider development or social needs.

When teachers identify an area where a pupil is making slow progress, they will target the pupil's area of weakness with differentiated, high-quality teaching. If progress does not improve, the teacher will raise the issue with the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment to have an initial discussion about whether this lack of progress may be due to a special educational need. Where necessary they will, in consultation with the pupil's parents or carers, consider consulting an external specialist.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND. Potential short-term causes of impact on behaviour or performance will be considered, such as bullying or bereavement. Staff will also take particular care in identifying and assessing SEND for pupils whose first language is not English.

When deciding whether the pupil needs special educational provision, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

If a pupil is joining the school, and:

- Their previous setting has already identified that they have SEND;
- They are known to external agencies;
- They have an education, health and care plan (EHCP).

then the school will work in a multi-agency way to make sure we get relevant information before the pupil starts at school, so support can be put in place as early as possible.

Our approach to SEND support (cntd)

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

The school will put the pupil and their parents at the heart of all decisions made about special educational provision. When we are aiming to identify whether a pupil needs special education provision, we will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents.

These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength, weakness and need
- We take into account any concerns the parents have
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

We will formally notify parents if it is decided that a pupil will receive special educational provision.

Our approach to SEND support (cntd)

The graduated approach to SEND support

Once a pupil has been identified as having SEND, we will take action to remove any barriers to learning, and put effective special educational provision in place. This support will be delivered through successive rounds of a four-part cycle known as the graduated approach.

Assess

The pupil's class teacher and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. The views of the pupil and their parents will be taken into account. The school may also seek advice from external support services.

The assessment will be reviewed regularly to help make sure that the support in place is matched to the pupil's need. For many pupils, the most reliable way to identify needs is to observe the way they respond to an intervention.

Plan

In consultation with the parents and the pupil, the teacher and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will decide which adjustments, interventions and support will be put into place, the expected outcomes, and a clear date for review.

All staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of the pupil's needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided and any teaching strategies or approaches that are needed. This information will be recorded on Provision Map, and will be made accessible to staff as a pupil passport and, where appropriate, an IEP and / or a behaviour support plan.

Parents will be fully aware of the planned support and interventions, and may be asked to reinforce or contribute to progress at home.

Do

The pupil's class or subject teacher retains overall responsibility for their progress.

Where the plan involves group or one-to-one teaching away from the main class or subject teacher, they still retain responsibility for the pupil. They will work closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff involved, to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and how they can be linked to classroom teaching.

The SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will support the teacher in further assessing the pupil's particular strengths and weaknesses, in problem solving and advising on how to implement support effectively.

Our approach to SEND support (cntd)

The graduated approach to SEND support (cntd)

Review

The effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress will be reviewed in line with the agreed date.

We will evaluate the impact and quality of the support and interventions. This evaluation will be based on:

- The views of the parents and pupils
- The level of progress the pupil has made towards their outcomes
- The views of teaching staff who work with the pupil

The teacher and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will revise the outcomes and support in light of the pupil's progress and development, and in consultation with the pupil and their parents.

Levels of support

School-based SEND provision

Pupils receiving SEND provision will be placed on the school's SEND register. These pupils have needs that can be met by the school through the graduated approach. Where the pupil's needs cannot be adequately met with in-house expertise, staff will consider involving an external specialist as soon as possible.

Education, health and care plan (EHCP)

Pupils who need more support than is available through the school's school-based SEND provision may be entitled to an EHCP. The plan is a legal document that describes the needs of the pupil, the provision that will be put in place, and the outcomes sought.

Expertise and training of staff

Training will regularly be provided to teaching and support staff. The deputy head and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will continuously monitor to identify any staff who have specific training needs and will incorporate this into the school's plan for continuous professional development.

Links with external professional agencies

The school recognises that it will not be able to meet all the needs of every pupil. We are committed to working with support services and outside agencies to ensure a comprehensive approach to SEND. Parents are asked for their consent before their son is referred to outside agencies and / or his data is sent to them.

Whenever necessary the school will work with external support services such as:

- Speech and language therapists
- Specialist teachers or support services
- Educational psychologists
- Occupational therapists, speech and language therapists or physiotherapists
- General practitioners or paediatricians
- Child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS)
- Education welfare officers
- Social services

In the case of a pupil requiring additional support as stipulated in their Education, Health and Care Plan, wherever possible, the school will endeavour to cooperate with the local authority in providing such support, subject to availability of appropriate professionals, space and sufficient funding.

Admissions arrangements

See Eaton House Schools' admission policy, which comply with SENDA (2001).

Transition to another setting

If a pupil is not progressing adequately despite the school's intervention, the Headteacher, the Head of Learning Enrichment, parents and external professionals will decide if the pupil's needs would be better met in a different setting. The Headteacher and the SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment will advise parents on a more appropriate school or setting to meet the needs of their son. The pupil's reports and SEND file will be passed on to the next school and parents will be supported through the transition.

Arrangements for pupils moving to another setting

It is vital that parents plan at least a year in advance for their child's move to another school. Parents are offered the following support and guidance:

- Discussions with the Headteacher, SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment and staff on appropriate placements.
- A list of possible schools is supplied to the parents.
- The Headteacher or SENCo / Head of Learning Enrichment may visit the school on behalf of the parent to help ensure a smooth transfer or to ascertain the suitability of the school to meet the child's needs.

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEND provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEND by:

- Tracking pupils' progress, including by using provision maps;
- Carrying out the review stage of the graduated approach in every cycle of SEND support;
- Holding annual reviews for pupils with EHCPs;
- Requesting feedback from the pupil and their parents.

Monitoring this policy

This policy will be reviewed by the headteacher and the SENCo every year. It will also be updated when any new legislation, requirements or changes in procedure occur during the year.
